

Heatwave

(Verse1)

You are opening my eyes they want to sight see
You give them just a vision and they witness the way you walk the road like I did
No less than two months ago
Wasn't hiding in the shade or leaving little room for Walking to the rhythm not tip-toeing carefully

(Pre-Chorus1)

I guess I was waiting for Fahrenheit to make its' way to Mars
And I let myself freeze but now I'm lifting off the dust of earth
With what I know and with the (anticipation)

(Chorus)

Heatwave
Without getting burned
I'll march on over to the sunrays
To my own rhythm
Wish I could march into a parade
Without getting hurt
No I don't want to fall anymore
Someday I'd say that at the drop of a hat
I would just stumble into people like that

(Verse2)

It's been difficult to find a way around it
I've been trying to pull then pushed away all the people when I could've been closer to them
They'll never know what's going on in this mind
Cause it's been trying to find its' (PAUSE) way into order
Working its' way back to reason it tip-toes carefully

(Pre-Chorus2)

We are all waiting for paradise to make its' way to us
I don't need to douse me though it's hotter here than in the desert
If you can dare enjoy the (anticipation)

(Chorus)

Heatwave
Without getting burned
I'll march on over to the sunrays
To my own rhythm
Wish I could march into a parade
Without getting hurt
No I don't want to fall anymore
Someday I'd say that at the drop of a hat
I would just stumble into people like that
